Dear FASD Families,

As you have heard, Governor Wolf has instructed that all Pennsylvania schools will remain closed through at least April 6, 2020 for students. Support staff would return on April 7 & 8 with students and teachers returning on April 14, provided COVID-19 is subsiding. FASD plans to provide continuity of education to students beginning March 30 through April 9 at a minimum. As we move to an online model for delivery of instruction, the teachers will be available through email or other communication platforms. You may find a listing of the communication platforms on each school's website. The middle and high school teacher availability will be Monday – Friday (9:00-11:00 AM and 12:30-2:30 PM) and elementary school teacher availability will be Monday – Friday (10:00 AM-12:00 PM and 1:30–3:30 PM).

Continuity of education is designed to keep the minds of our youth actively engaged in common curriculum, while allowing students in credit bearing courses to move forward in their learning. We want you to participate fully in the continuation model because this will benefit everyone for the common good of our most precious resources, our children. Should we receive more direction from the Department of Education on the model of education allowed beyond April 6, we will communicate that direction with you.

We will maintain a stable, reliable, and steadfast guide to students and families throughout the mandatory shutdown period. We will do our very best to enrich the daily lives of our families as we would take care of our own. We only ask you to do the best you can as a family to support the same cause. As a community, we will navigate together through these unprecedented times. Please continue to check the district's website for updates.

Yours in education,

Mike Adamek
